Dear Mayor Ruane,

Alan Webber wrote, "All depends on the quality of the conversation." At the Southwest Florida Community Foundation, we believe that the quality of a conversation can increase the quality of action and outcomes. Because of this, we wanted to thank you for taking time out of your busy schedule to attend the recent Environmental Roundtable on Water Issues and share your thoughts about needed change in our region.

As you know, the SWFL Community Foundation is a regional hub where together we can provide strategic leadership, create collective philanthropy and support nonprofit organizations to become more effective, impactful and sustainable. Together we are tackling causes that deeply affect our region.

As we continue our vital work on community needs and donor causes, we may ask for more of your input and expertise along the way, or simply invite you to participate periodically, attend an event or program.

Your time and energy is so valued. And conversations like those at the roundtable once again prove that we can make meaningful change when we work together.

Sincerely,

Dave Fleming
